Purpose of Development Charges

The general purpose for which the City imposes development charges is to assist in providing the infrastructure required by future development in the municipality through the establishment of an available capital funding source to meet the City's financial requirements.

Development charge funds may only be used for the purpose for which they are collected.

Development charges are based on the methodology that existing taxpayers should not be liable for capital costs of new growth. At the same time, new taxpayers should not have to contribute more than the net capital cost attributable to growth in order to maintain current levels of municipal services.

Terms of By-Laws

By-Law 2018-038 was passed on April 9, 2018 by Cornwall City Council and came into effect April 10, 2018 and is set to expire on April 10, 2023.

By-Law 2018-037 was repealed and replaced with By-Law 2020-112 on September 14, 2020 by Cornwall City Council and came into effect September 15, 2020 and is set to expire on September 15, 2025.

Development Charge Collection

Development charges are payable in full on the date that the building permit is issued. Notwithstanding the foregoing, Rental Housing Development, Institutional Development and Non-Profit Housing Development are required to pay their development charges in installment payments in accordance with Section 26.1 of the Development Charges Act and the City's Development Charges Interest Policy.

Where any development charge, or part thereof, remains unpaid after the due date, the amount unpaid will be added to the tax roll and will be collected in the same manner as taxes.

Payment of Development Charge

You may be required to pay development charges for land development or redevelopment projects if you are:

- Constructing a new building;
- Making an addition or alteration to an existing building that increases the number of dwelling units or the non-residential gross floor area;
- Redeveloping a property or making interior alterations that result in a change of use to all or part of the building.

Development Charge Calculation

All development is categorized as either:

- a) Residential;
- b) Non-residential; or
- c) Mixed use.

Note: Please refer to By-Law 2018-038 and By-Law 2020-112 for the rules associated with the calculation of each type of development.

Exemptions

The following types of development are exempt from payment of development charges:

- a) a non-residential farm building or structure;
- b) a cemetery and burial sites;
- c) development described in sections 2(3) of the Development Charges Act;
- d) buildings or structures owned and occupied by and used for the purposes of a municipality;
- e) buildings or structures owned and occupied by and used by a Board of Education;
- f) buildings or structures owned by a hospital approved as a public hospital;
- g) buildings or structures owned and occupied by a college or university; and
- h) the enlargement of an existing industrial building provided the enlargement is less than 50% of the existing floor area.

Statement of Treasurer

As required by the Development Charges Act, 1997 and Bill 73, the Treasurer of the City of Cornwall must prepare an annual financial statement reporting on the status and transactions relating to the development charge reserve funds for the previous year. This statement is presented to the Council of the City of Cornwall for their review and may be reviewed by the Public in the Clerk's Department during regular business hours at 360 Pitt Street, Cornwall, Ontario, K6J 3P9.
